RAM SALE

The future of your genetics is here

This is where the confident stud Merino breeders showcase their rams. It is a remarkable line-up of some of the best in South Australia. Sheep that are bred to be tough and resilient. Natural selection through decades of hard years has refined their capacity. The only thing that is soft about these sheep is their wool, and there's good coin in that. They don't all come with a headlining sale tag, there are rams for both stud and commercial interests. But they are here, together, without you having to travel all over the country.
